VOICE OF THE EDITOR

College Tuition Blues

If you're heading to college this fall, or if you are preparing to send your children to college, you probably have a checklist: laptop, iPod, iPhone, chargers, clothes, dorm/apartment supplies, bathroom supplies, books for classes (this is probably the right order too), and so on. The elephant on the list, however, is a fat tuition check.

TIP OF THE DAY

At the end of the day, the effective leader must embrace a plan to retain the very best talent. If you fail to recruit and retain top talent, you will not sustain growth over time.

EDUCATION HEADLINES

→ Will Rising Costs Make College Unattainable?

More and more Americans are losing confidence in their ability to send their children to college, and student loan debt is now at $1 trillion - a figure that's growing faster than any other kind of debt.

→ Mike Sabbatis to Leave CCH, Karen Abramson To Be New President, CEO

Mike Sabbatis is leaving the position of CCH President and CEO, and Karen Abramson will succeed him, effective September 2012.

→ Exit Interviews: Too Little, Too Late

"We need to talk." Those words typically signal the end of a romantic relationship. But the same holds true when an employee - usually one of the "stars" - wants to leave his or her current firm or company.
